GERARD FORWARDS GERMANY'S REPLY

Note Denies the Sussex Was Attacked By German Submarine

SUNK SHIP MARCH 24

Commander of U-Boat Reached Definite Conclusion That Vessel Was a Warship

ENCLOSE SKETCH OF VESSEL

BERLIN, April 12.—Germany's reply to the inquiries of the American government regarding the steamers Sussex, Manchester Engineer, Englishman, Berwindvale and Eagle Point, signed by Gottlieb VonJagow, the German minister of foreign affairs, has been forwarded to Washington by Ambassador Gerard. The note denies that the Sussex was attacked by a German submarine. The investigation covering the Sussex case, says the note, was extended to all actions undertaken on March 24—the day of the Sussex incident—in the channel between Folkestone and Dieppe. One steamer was sunk, the commander of the German submarine reaching the definite conclusion that it was a war vessel. A sketch of this vessel together with photographic reproductions of a picture of the steamer Sussex printed in the London Daily Graphic were enclosed with the note, the difference in the two craft being indicated.

The steamers Englishman and Eagle Point were sunk by German submarines after they had attempted to escape and time was allowed for the withdrawal of those aboard.

The steamer Berwindvale was possibly sunk by a German submarine while definite details with respect to the Manchester Engineer are lacking and therefore there has been no sufficient basis for investigation of this particular case.

Following is text of the German note on the Sussex, dated April 10:

"The undersigned has the honor to inform you excellency, Ambassador Gerard, in response to communications of the 29th and 30th ultimo and the third instant regarding the Steamers Sussex, Manchester Engineer, Englishman, Berwindvale and Eagle Point, that the mentioned cases in accordance with our notes of the 30th and 31st ultimo and the 4th and 5th instant have been subjected to careful investigation by the admiral staff of the navy which has reached the following results:

First Section.

"The English steamer Berwindvale—A steamer which was possibly the Berwindvale, was encountered on the evening of March 16 in sight of Bull Rock light on the Irish coast by a German submarine. The steamer, as soon as she noticed the submarine which was running unsubmerged, turned and steamed away. She was ordered to halt by a warning shot. She paid no attention, however, to this warning, but extinguished all lights and attempted to escape. The vessel was then fired upon until halted and without further orders, lowered several boats. After the crew entered the boats and received enough time to row away, the ship was sunk.

"The name of this steamer was not established; it cannot be stated with assurance, even with the help of the details which were furnished by the American embassy that the above described incident concerns the steamer Berwindvale. Since, however, the steamer sunk was a tank steamer like the Berwindvale, the identity of the ships may be assumed. In this case, however, the statement made that the Berwindvale was torpedoed without warning would conflict with the facts.

Second Section.

"British steamer Englishman—This steamer on March — was called upon to halt by a German submarine thru two warning shots about twenty sea miles west of Islay (Hebrides). The vessel proceeded, however, without heeding the warning and was therefore forced by the submarine by artillery fire to halt after an extended chase; whereupon she lowered boats without further orders.

"After the German commandant had convinced himself that the crew had taken to the boats and rowed from the ship, he sank the steamer.

Third Section.

"The British steamer Manchester Engineer—It is impossible to establish thru the investigation up to the present whether the attack on this steamer, which, according to the given description occurred on March 27, in the latitude of Waterford, is attributable to a German submarine. The statement regarding the time and place of the incident gives no sufficient basis for investigation. It would therefore be desirable to have more exact statements of the place, time and attendant circumstances of the attack reported by the American

TWO STATE DELEGATES ARE FOR ROOSEVELT

SENATOR SHERMAN GIVEN PRACTICALLY SOLID DELEGATION

Complete Chicago Returns Prove Sullivan Strong Winner and Thompson Lost More Than Half the Ward Contests—Legality of Ward and Committee Elections Is Questioned.

Chicago, April 12.—Two announced supporters of Theodore Roosevelt for the Republican nomination are among the fifty-eight Illinois delegates to the Republican national convention elected in Tuesday's primary. This is the only apparent break in the slate providing for a solid delegation for Senator L. Y. Sherman for president.

Charles Sergel, city treasurer of Chicago, and John Siman, city clerk, elected as district delegates in the second and sixth districts, respectively, are the avowed Roosevelt men.

In the twentieth district State Treasurer Andrew Russel and Samuel O. Savage of Tallula defeated Homer J. Tice, one of the Sherman downts-ate managers, and Frank J. Heinl, but it is expected the successful contestants will vote for Sherman, altho they are unpledged.

McCormick in Lead.

With 832 precincts missing, Medill McCormick leads the eight Republican delegates at large, while Mayor William H. Thompson of Chicago is last on the list. John M. Harlan, the only Roosevelt candidate for delegate at large, was defeated.

On the Democratic side Roger C. Sullivan claims 45 of the 58 delegates to the St. Louis convention.

In Chicago complete returns show that Mayor Thompson lost 21 of the 35 wards in the city in the fight for control of the county Republican committee.

Roger C. Sullivan and his friends carried 28 of the 35 wards, defeating former Mayor Carter H. Harrison.

Legal Flaw Suggested.

Legality of the ward and state committee election held in connection with the presidential preference primary was questioned today by Congressman A. J. Sabbath, chairman of the Democratic county committee. He held up the call for the Cook county convention next Monday until he obtained legal advice on which he will decide whether to file a suit in court to test the validity of the committee elections. He declared that in his opinion the election should be held next September.

In 25 counties outside of Cook (Chicago) which had reported total preferential votes tonight, the following totals were registered for the various candidates, the names of all but Sherman and Wilson having been written in by voters:

Sherman, Republican	17,905
Roosevelt, Republican	141
Hughes, Republican	19
Root, Republican	6
LaFollette, epublican	1
Cummins, Republican	1
Wilson, Democrat	8,576
Bryan, Democrat	2

The Cook County vote added to the above figures makes the totals for the state as follows:

Sherman	87,680
Roosevelt	13,090
Hughes	1,064
Root	302
Taft	7
Thompson	2
Cummins	1
LaFollette	1
Total Republicans	102,147
Wilson	90,350
Clark	75
Bryan	5
Total Democrats	90,430

LANSING ANNOUNCES BRITISH NOTE DOES NOT CLOSE CASE

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Secretary Lansing announced late today that Great Britain's note on the seizure of 38 Austrians, Germans and Turks from the American steamer China near Shanghai does not close the case to the satisfaction of the United States.

It was said at the state department that the seizures probably would be the subject of further correspondence soon. Secretary Lansing is of the opinion that there is no precedent which would uphold Great Britain's attempt to justify the seizures on the ground that the men had engaged in plots in the far east and were on their way to Manila to continue their efforts against the allies. The position of the United States is that subjects of a belligerent government may not be removed from an American vessel on the high seas even tho they properly may be considered military persons but not actually members of the armed forces.

TAKES THIRTY THREE THOUSAND VOLTS OF ELECTRICITY

TAMA, Iowa, April 12—O. P. Millard, manager of the local telephone exchange and of the local branch of the Iowa Railway and Light company, narrowly escaped death here today when a charge of thirty three thousand volts of electricity passed thru his body while he was working on a transformer fourteen feet above the ground. His wife who witnessed her husband's fall from the pole, dropped dead of heart trouble. Millard recovered an hour after the accident.

VILLA SOLDIERS SACK SIERRA MOJADA

Destroy Many Thousands of Dollars Worth of American Property

WILL STRENGTHEN FORCE

Means Will Be Sought to Reinforce Pershing if Work is Not Finished in Few Days

REPORT RAIDS NEAR GUAYMAS

EL PASO, Texas, April 12.—A band of Villa's soldiers numbering several hundred and possibly a thousand have sacked Sierra Mojada, five miles across the Coanuila line and eighty miles east of Jiminez, destroying many thousands of dollars worth of American property and looting the town of everything of value.

Believe Villa Among Raiders.

This news, which may prove to be of the highest importance as it is believed possible Villa himself was among the raiders, was received here today by the representative of one of the largest American mining concerns in Mexico and is accepted by him as absolutely authentic. The bandits made their attack on the town on April 5. They came from Escalon, a junction point on the Mexican National railroad, sixty miles southeast of Jiminez and about an equal distance southwest of Sierra Mojada, which was its connection by the Mexican Northern railroad. On their way to Sierra Mojada they saked the small town of Corrilo.

The belief that Villa himself may be directing the operations of the bandits is supported by a report received today from Ojinaga stating that Colonel Riojas, the commander there had information that Villa had doubled in his tracks and was 200 miles southwest of that town. Ojinaga is directly across the border from Presidio, Texas, and about 150 miles north of Sierra Mojada.

Gives Coor to Location.

Another circumstance that gives color to this location of the bandit chief is the fact that Canuto Reyes, at the head of a large number of men was reported from Torreon a week ago to be traveling north in the direction of Sierra Mojada. It was the belief at the time in Torreon that Villa's notorious ally was on his way to join the brigand-in-chief.

If these conclusions prove true, Villa has completely evaded the American troops who have been driving south at an amazing speed, and are today reported from the most reliable sources, to be well south of Parral and very close to the Durango border. Sierra Mojada is 140 miles east of the nearest point at which American troops are known to be.

It is on the eastern side of a vast desert, known as the Bolson Mapimi and south of another dreary, waterless waste called Bolson de Los Lipanes. Its only connection with the west is by the Mexican Northern railroad along which the Villistas advanced, burning bridges, destroying telegraph lines and tearing up the tracks as far as they were able.

Give Reports Little Credence.

Little credence is given reports here from Ojinaga that Villa plans to turn north and attempt a raid on Presidio. It is believed far more probable that the bandit if he is at Sierra Mojada has chosen that desolate and almost inaccessible spot for the concentration of his forces and those of Canuto Reyes with the intention of sweeping down in force on Torreon after the American troops are withdrawn from Mexico. Numerous reports from Mexican sources agree that Villa is convinced the soldiers of the United States will soon be recalled and that then he will be able to rally all the anti-Carranza factions in northern Mexico to his standard.

Will Strengthen Forces.

San Antonio, Texas, April 12.—Unless the work of the punitive expedition in Mexico is accomplished within a very few days means will be sought to strengthen General Pershing's forces at the front, it was authoritatively stated tonight. It is expected that General Funston will ask the war department to move into the southern department the 4,000 troops that are stationed at other points in the United States. If this is done these will be placed on duty along the border relieving for service in Mexico a part of the 20,000 men now doing garrison and patrol duty along the frontier. If the war department regards the transfer of troops not now in the department inexpedient, it is believed General Funston will recommend using the militia to relieve the troops along the border.

Report Americans Killed.

San Diego, Calif., April 12.—Several Americans have been killed or wounded in bandit raids in the vicinity of Guaymas, Sonora, according to a naval radio message received here today. The message was forwarded to the navy department at Washington and resulted in an order to the cruiser Denver to steam for the Sonora seaport and investigate.

The message gave no details of the reported raids and made no mention of the time they were committed.

The Denver was enroute from Corinto, Nicaragua, to San Diego. The supply steamer Glacier, now at Mazatlan, Mexico, is expected to arrive here early next week with a number of refugees who are reported to have fled from the interior of Sinaloa because of unsettled conditions.

Identifying Salazar.

Sierra Blanca, Texas, April 12.—General Ynez Salazar, who disappeared from El Paso several days ago, was positively identified today at Morris' T. O. ranch in Mexico, 90 miles south of here and 40 miles south of the border. He had with him four companions and is said to have threatened to kill one of the American ranch hands who knew him personally. The party left, doing no damage, but took rifles and ammunition owned by the ranch hands.

Identify Villa Prisoners.

Columbus, N. M., April 12.—The six Villa prisoners brought to the border last night under heavy guard have been identified positively by soldiers and townspeople as having participated in the raid on Columbus March 9, Major W. R. Sample, commandant of the base announced tonight.

It was determined also that one of the prisoners who claimed to be a Carranza soldier captured by Villa was a member of Villa's band when it raided Columbus having deserted the de facto troops. It was announced the men will be held here pending an investigation as to the legal steps to be taken in prosecuting them.

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., April 12.—Richard Harding Davis, author and war correspondent, died at his home here late last night from heart trouble. His body was found early this morning. Apparently he had been stricken while at the telephone.

He had gone into his library to dictate a telegram to a friend in New York City. UNCOVER PLOT TO DESTROY SHIPS

OTHERS ARE INVOLVED

Suspects Are Accused of Fomenting Plot to Destroy Ships Carrying Munitions

POLICE INVADE MEN'S HAUNTS

NEW YORK, April 12—Four men charged with complicity in manufacturing "fire bombs" which were placed aboard ships carrying munitions and supplies to the entente allies, were arrested here tonight by agents of the department of justice acting in concert with the New York police. Three of the suspects are employes of German steamship lines. They are accused of having been involved with others, not yet in custody of fomenting a plot, widespread in its ramifications, for the destruction of merchantmen. The men under arrest are:

Ernest Becker, 32, born in Germany, electrician on the Steamer Kaiser Friedrich der Grosse said by the police to have confessed to manufacturing hundreds of bomb-cases.

Captain Charles VonKleist, 67 years old, born in Germany, superintendent of the New Jersey agriculture and chemical company of Hoboken, N. J., who has confessed it is asserted that "fire bombs" were loaded in his company's place of business.

Captain Otto Wolpert, 44 years old, superintendent of Atlas Line Piers of the Hamburg-American Line who is accused of having received the completed bombs.

Captain Enno Bode, 49 years old, superintendent of the Hamburg-American Line Piers in Hoboken, who, the police say has admitted acting as the agent of Captain Franz Von Papen, former military attache at the German embassy in visits to the plant of the New Jersey agriculture and chemical company and charged with assisting in the distribution of the bombs

VonKleist who claims to be a brother-in-law of General Von Blesin of the German army who was killed, was the first to be placed under arrest. After a long and rigid questioning by detectives he is said to have been instrumental in bringing to police headquarters the men accused of being conspirators with him.

"We have invaded the haunts of the men who are responsible for the fires, and explosions on steamships, especially sugar-carrying ships both at piers and at sea," declared Captain Tunney of the 'bomb squad' in telling of the seizure at the chemical company plant of 200 bombs of the type said to have been used in the attempted destruction of vessels. The arrests are the result of an investigation which has been conducted by federal and city authorities since last June when the French government complained to the state department at Washington that unexploded bombs had been found in sugar bags aboard the steamship Kirk Oswald. One of these bombs was sent to Washington from Paris and Becker, according to the police, admitted tonight that it was one of those made by him.

Captain Tunney declared funds for the manufacture of the bombs were supplied by a wealthy man whose identity he refused to divulge. He said he was told details of the plot last October by Lieutenant Robert Fay, already under indictment in connection with alleged plots against steamships.

The bombs were composed of two shells, the outer of aluminum and the inner of zinc. The inner shell was filled with a strong acid, the police say which after seventy-two hours would eat its way thru the zinc and ignite the powder or other explosive in the outer shell. The resulting explosion according to fire department experts would have been of tremenduous force and if two or more occurred simultaneously in a vulnerable part of the steamships they would have blown out the side plates and cause the vessel to sink if at sea.

The body of Mrs. Allen was discovered in her apartments at the Joliet prison on June 20th, 1915. Evidence tended to show that she had been murdered and the bed set on fire.

DANIELS IS ATTACKED AT NAVY LEAGUE MEET

SECRETARY'S ACTION IN SUPRESSING FISKE SPEECH THE CAUSE

Hay Bill Termed a Menace to Country—Money From Ford Anti-Preparedness Advertisement Given to League—Congress Delays Termed Intolerable.

Washington, April 12.—Sessions of the annual convention of the navy league of the United States were featured today by attacks on Secretary Daniels because of his refusal to permit Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske to read a paper at the convention and a denunciation of the Hay army bill by H. Stanwood Menken, president of the National Security league.

Robert M. Thompson, president of the navy league, called the navy department's policy narrow and assailed the secretary for what he termed a suppression of free speech. Henry Reuterdahl declared the department's attitude was but a reflection of the attitude of the white house and said that "every administration must have its Dreyfus."

Hay Bill Termed Menace.

Mr. Menken characterized the Hay bill as a menace to the country and as a violation to every recommendation of exports. He charged that congress was ignoring a demand for defense lines laid down by men who knew. He said the American people had shown themselves for preparedness and that the congress should know "that their delays are intolerable and that if we are attacked there will be a penalty for the wreck and ruin of our country."

The navy league received a telegram from a Chicago newspaper today offering to donate to the league money it received from an anti-preparedness advertisement inserted early in the week by Henry Ford. The league acepted the donation and also telegraphed Mr. Ford, thanking him for the contribution.

EXPECT MORGENTHAU WILL SUBMIT RESIGNATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador to Turkey, is expected to submit his resignation to President Wilson tomorrow. Abram Elkus of New York has been suggested as his successor.

Mr. Morgenthau has been home on leave for several weeks. He was at the white house today but did not see the president with whom he has an engagement tomorrow. He would not discuss reports of his forthcoming resignation directly, but said he might not return to Constantinople next month as he had planned.

The president has been greatly pleased with the work done by Mr. Morgenthau in Turkey and if his resignation is accepted it will be with reluctance. Ever since the minister's return to the United States some of his friends have been urging him to reign in order to assist in the campaign for the re-election of Mr. Wilson.

LOAMI STOREKEEPER BLEW SAFE WITH HAMMER BLOW

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Safeblowers who attempted to rob the safe in the general store of O. W. Deason at Loami, near here, early Tuesday were frightened away before they could accomplish their purpose. Deason's efforts to open the safe yesterday were fruitless as the lock had been battered off. He sent for a locksmith who worked all day without success. Today Deacon, becoming impatient at the interruption to his business due to books and money being locked up, picked up a big sledge hammer and dealt the door of the safe a mighty blow.

An explosion followed and when the smoke and dust cleared away, Deacon and several onlookers were revealed to each other lying uninjured on all sides of the safe, the door of which had been blown open by a charge of nitroglycerine poured into the mechanism of the safe by the robbers.

FINDS MEDICINE OF NO VALUE.

Chicago, April 12.—Dr. John Clarence Webster of the University of Chicago, witness for the defense in the $300,000 libel suit of John A and Z. C. Patten against the American Medical association testified that in five cases under his care, tests were made to determine the value of "Wine of Cardui" in the treatment of women's diseases and in no instance had he found the medicine to be of any value whatever.

QUIET EAST OF MEUSE

Italians Capture Heights North of Rio Ponale From the Austrians

RUSS REPULSE TURK ATTACK

That a German submarine was not responsible for the damage to the French Cross-Channel Steamer Sussex, but that the Germans did sink a steamer in the region of the English channel the afternoon the Sussex met with disaster, are statements contained in Germany's reply to the American government's request for information concerning the Sussex.

The steamer sunk was supposed to be a war vessel, "a mine layer of the recently built English Arabis class," says the statement.

Holding Infantry Back

The Germans northwest of Verdun evidently are holding in leash their infantry for fresh attacks in their endeavors to capture Hill 304 and LeMort Homme, key points which are tenaciously barring their way to the fortress. The infantry has remained idle in their trenches while the big guns are showering shells on the region embracing the triangle formed by Hill 304, Esnes and LeMort Homme. Not even a sally by the Germans in this district is reported in the latest French communication.

Comparative quiet prevails to the east of the Meuse around Douaumont and Vaux, where there has recently been such vicious fighting.

No infantry attacks have been made by either side and the activity of the artillery has been less marked than on previous days. Mining operations and grenade fighting have taken place in the Argonne forest, during which the French captured the southern edges of two craters near Les Courtes Chaussees.

The Germans along the Pilkem-Ypres road after three attacks invaded British trenches but were quickly expelled from them, while the British successfully raided German trenches near Richeborg L'Avoue.

The British official statement says the Canadians in their gallant fighting during the past week have inflicted heavy losses on the Germans near St. Eloi. In the Russian theater there have been artillery duels and infantry attacks at various places. On the Austro-Italian front the Italians have taken from the Austrians the heights north of Rio Ponale and strong lines of trenches and redoubts on the southern slopes of Monte Pari and Cinnadoro, and on the rocks of Monte Sperone, the Austrians suffering heavy casualties. Elsewhere along the line the artillery duels continued.

Despatches from Saloniki report a recrudescence of the artillery fighting on the Greek front between Gievgeli and Doiran. In Asiatic Turkey, Petrograd reports a continuation of the Russian advance west of Erzerum. The Turks however in the region of Bitlis took the offensive against the invaders, but all their attacks were repulsed.

Altho the Turks report a serious defeat near Felahie of the British advancing to the relief of General Townsend's force beleaguered in Kut-El-Amara a despatch is said to have been received in South Africa from General Townsend saying that he was well and expecting relief shortly.

Gold, silver and paper money and all negotiable instruments and securities have been placed on the contraband list by Great Britain.

CHARGE WIFE MURDER.

Chicago, April 12.—Konstantin Fraintus was held to the grand jury today by a coroner's jury for the alleged murder of his wife by pouring kerosene on her clothing and setting fire to her garments March 20. She died in the county hospital April 6. Fraintus denied the charge. He said his wife had been drinking and attempted to throw a kerosene lamp at him and dropped it accidentally, setting fire to her colthing.

For President

L. Y. SHERMAN.

For Governor

ANDREW RUSSEL.

The Army bill, like most other legislation of importance will be perfected in the Committee on conference. The House measure, sponsored by Mr. Hay and declared by him to equal the President's bill, differs in many essentials from the Senate bill, sponsored by Senator Chamberlain and undoubtedly we shall hear that this, too, is the President's bill. And surely, when the measure is finally whipped into shape and has been passed by both branches of Congress, we shall be told that it is then the President's bill and that Mr. Wilson has won a great "triumph."

Good Working Conditions Pay.

That employers who take measures to insure healthful working conditions for their employes may not be actuated altogether by altruistic spirit is indicateded by the statement that labor in Los Angeles is considered twenty per cent more efficient than in eastern cities where extreme temperatures affect man's working capacity. The rule holds true with reference to ventilation as well as temperature, and in the factory where ventilation, sanitation and general conditions are kept to a high standard the general effect is shown in not only the amount of work done by employes, but also by the quality.

Defeating Candidates at Home.

There is nothing very significant about a political leader losing his own ward or precinct, especially if his political rivals meet with the same fate. This happened in Chicago Tuesday, when both Charles S. Deneen and Mayor Thompson lost their home wards. Mr. Deneen has been a member of the central committee from his home ward for twenty years and was defeated Tuesday by 650 votes. Mayor Thompson lost his ward by a considerable margin, just as he did in the aldermanic primaries. In such a contest the opposing forces always focus particular attention on a leader's home ward and they seem to have the idea that defeat there can be used quite effectively for advertising purposes.

Whitman Still Stands for Hughes.

Governor Whitman of New York is not daunted by the repeated statements of Justice Hughes that the latter will not permit his name to be used as a candidate before the Republican national convention. Governor Whitman declares that the justice is the logical candidate and the man on whom all factions of the Republican party could unite. It has been judged in some quarters that Whitman is not sincerely for Hughes but is advocating the candidacy because he knows there is no possibility of a nomination resulting and that he finds this method the best to cover up his own intentions. The governor scoffs at this story and says it is too ridiculous to merit an answer, and that he will use every possible endeavor to bring about the nomination of the justice.

Street Signs.

A citizen said yesterday, "If I might inspire an editorial it would be on the advisability of giving the street signs of Jacksonville some needed attention. I had three strangers accost me this morning asking for certain streets and they said that they had stopped at various corners and could not find signs." This is a matter which needs attention as visitors in the city find it difficult to locate given addresses, because street signs are lacking.

It has been a good many years since the present signs were first placed in position and naturally in the intervening period many of the signs have been defaced or disappeared entirely. To have new signs placed where none are in position and defaced signs renewed would not cost the city a very large sum and would be quite helpful to strangers when in Jacksonville.

To Develop Aviation Service.

The coming of Lieut. Colonel George Squier, military attache of the American embassy at London, to head the U. S. army aviation school at Santiago, is considered the beginning of a general overhauling of the aviation system of the U. S. Colonel Squier has had a notable career in the signal service. During the Spanish war he was assigned to that service with the volunteers and commanded the cable ship "Burnside" during the laying of the Philippine cable telegraph system. He has done extensive scientific research work and is considered as especially fitted for the work he is to now undertake.

While the progress of the war in Europe has brought home to the U. S. the great need of development of this branch of the service, this need has been emphasized much more acutely by the Mexican situation, and the war department heads have found that an efficient aviation corps would be worth a great army in the conduct of reconnoitering work in Mexico, and that such equipment could bring in the desired information at a cost of life and property vastly less than is true when troops are employed.

Richard Harding Davis Dead.

Richard Harding Davis, widely known as an author and war correspondent was found dead in his home at Mount Kisco, N. Y., early Wednesday morning. Mr. Davis had been in failing health for some time and apparently had died while using the telephone.

Richard Harding Davis was the son of L. Clarke and Rebecca Harding Davis, the latter also a writer of note. He was graduated from Lehigh and Johns Hopkins and entered newspaper work. He served as a correspondent in a number of wars, notably the Spanish-American and the Russo-Japanese wars. One of his earlier books was "Soldiers of Fortune," which gained him wide fame.

Perhaps the thing that gave Mr. Davis as much fame as anything he ever wrote was a short story, "The Littlest Girl," also known as "Her First Appearance." This sketch was dramatized and was played by Robert Hilliard. Mr. Hilliard scored a Broadway success in the play and produced it at the Grand in the 90's. It was afterward played here by H. M. Ravenscroft and Prentis McKenzie in a home talent performance.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

GARDENING.

I do not like to dig and till the garden—it's too hard a chore; I'd rather take a dollar bill and buy my onions at the store. When first the vernal breezes blow, men feel desire to hew the soil, and with their spades and rakes they go, and sing and chortle as they toil. But the vernal breezes soon expire; the sizzling wind of summer blows and sets the toiler's beard afire, and tans his neck and bakes his nose. And as he sweats 'neath burning skies, and gives the noxious weeds a whack, a million ants and bugs and flies crawl up his legs and bite his back. And then he hates his sawed-off farm, he growls enough for seven gents; his cauliflowers lose all their charm, his string beans look like twenty cents. Oh, I have gardened in the past, and know the fervor born of spring glows bright a while, but does not last; it is an evanescent thing. I do not like the rake and hoe, I will not ply them any more; when I want turnips I will go and buy the blamed things at the store.

EVANGELIST AT GRACE CHURCH SPEAKS OF THE DIVINE LOVE

Rev. E. K. Towle Heard in Strong Address Wednesday Evening—Plans Made for a Big Day Sunday.

Plans have been announced for a great day next Sunday at Grace Church. An illustrated address will be given at the Sunday School hour when all departments will be assembled together. "Does the American Young Man Need God?" will be the theme of the morning sermon. Mr. Towle will speak on the "Defense of the Home." These are two of his strongest sermons and have been the means of doing great good wherever delivered. Both are subjects of vital interest and will doubtless attract record audiences.

This evening the regular service will be preceded by a half-hour's prayer meeting in the auditorium of the Sunday School and followed by a meeting of the division captains and the teachers of the Sunday School. A full attendance is desired.

Last evening Miss Rena M. Lazelle sang "Jesus is Calling for Me" and the text was Ephesians 2:4; "For His Great Love Wherewith He Loved Us." The sermon was an eloquent portrayal of the matchless love of the divine Father. "Another good sermon" was the comment of many as they passed out from the service. These are a few things the Evangelist said:

"Things would look black for mankind but for one thing. The hope of humanity is the love of God. Man's enduring hope rests not so much on God's power and wisdom as on the fact that God is love. I shall be content tonight if I may but direct your meditation upon this great theme, and hold up a few words of scripture for you to look through as windows opening out upon the Divine glories of the Divine Love."

"As one stands on a July morning looking at the summit of Pike's Peak looking off to the north and west at the majestic snow capped peaks lifting their hoary heads up into the clouds, and then from this down into what seems almost bottomless gorges, where gleaming streams and rivers born of glaciers rush in mad defiant haste over huge boulders through narrow passes out into the open country, and as one beholds out on the plain as far as the eye can stretch village and city nestling in the sunlight on earth's bosom, one finds himself unable to force sight into speech. The glory of it all is too sublime for words."

"So it is as we consider God's great love. As we gaze up toward its sublime heights, and out upon its limitless stretches, and down, down into the abyssmal depths from which it lifts the soul; as we contemplate the wonder of the plan of salvation, the marvels of its grace, its tender compassion, its sacrifice, its holy entreaties, its everlasting arms of keeping power—we are compelled to exclaim with Paul, "Oh to apprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length and height and depth and to know the love of Christ which passeth all knowledge."

"Words are empty vessels before such a theme. God's love is too vast to be held in the language of mortal man, too wonderful to be voiced by the throat of flesh."

"The plan of salvation is love's miracle. The power of love is a scene unpainted and unwritten. But love somehow opens doors nothing else can."

An Old Aphorism

Early to bed and early to rise,
Makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.
But to try this plan and nothing more,
Would make a farce of this metaphor.
For if you'd be healthy you must eat,
A liberal diet of good, fresh meat.
Your health is essential to wisdom and wealth,
Which makes every man consider himself
When it comes to the kind of meat; and plan
To get it fresh from the Butcher Man.

This attraction which Manager Johnson was successful in booking after weeks of effort, has broken all opera house records. Six performances were given and each time the house was crowded. No previous production has met with such universal approval and all persons old and young, who have been in the audience have declared "The Birth of a Nation" the greatest picture they have ever seen.

The attraction has been notable, too, for the number of visitors it brought from other towns and counties. There have been more people in the business district Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week than on any other week day except Saturday for a long period. Certainly the management of the opera house and of the production have every reason to be satisfied with the patronage extended. And the people have the feeling that they were well repaid for their patronage.

Wednesday morning pupils from the School for the Deaf attended to the number of several hundred and it was a great day for them. They were all more than enthusiastic about the production, and the day will be notable in their memories for years to come.

LEO BIGGS, BOARDING FREIGHT, THROWN AND BADLY INJURED

Leo Biggs was thrown from a C. P. & St. L. freight train Wednesday afternoon while attempting to catch a ride home. He had been engaged in painting in the northeast part of the city and made the attempt to board train between Oak street and the Mauvaisterre bridge. The incoming freight at this point is usually traveling at a good rate of speed and miscalculating the distance, Mr. Biggs slipped and fell, striking the back of his head on a cross tie. Besides an ugly head wound he received a broken right shoulder and bad bruises on the right leg.

Mr. Biggs was taken to Our Savior's hospital and Wednesday night was in satisfactory condition, according to the surgeon in charge. His injuries, tho extensive, are not thought to be of serious nature and recovery is regarded as a matter of time.

TOM H. BUCKTHORPE

OLD JACKSONVILLE

West State Street

By Ensley Moore.
Member Illinois State Historical Society.

Dr. John M. Peck, that glorious old Baptist preacher, who did so much for Illinois in the two editions of his "Gazeteer" of the state and in other ways had this to say of Jacksonville, in 1834:

"It is situated on elevated ground in the midst of a most delightful prairie, on section twenty and twenty one, township fifteen north, in range ten west of the third principal meridian. * * * Few towns exhibit a finer prospect than does Jacksonville, from whatever side the traveller approaches. The surrounding prairie country, now in a state of cultivation, is beautifully undulating, and uncommonly rich. The timber in sight is either in groves, or spread along the waters of the Mauvaisterre and Sandy."

State street was derived from the "State road," which ran along the ridge dividing this beautiful landscape from the Mauvaisterre, north of town, and the languid, but uncertain Brook.

Things did not generally begin to the east ward in those days. Because explorers, settlers and travellers followed the rivers, and so got access to the interior regions beyond. Consequently West State street was probably the first part of the "State road" which became noticeable.

Be that as it may, there were two other reasons why the western end of the street should be more prominent soon after the town was founded.

The first was that it lead from the new settlement to what was the home at first, of Gov. Duncan, and afterwards the site of "the seat of Gov. Duncan," along about 1834 to 1836, when he built his handsome residence, now occupied by Judge Kirby, which still stands north of the park bearing Duncan's name.

The second was that the greatest economic feature of the state, and of the Northwest, in material construction came from Meredosia in 1839, when the track of the Northern Cross railroad was laid into town, on State street from the present High School grounds, thru the Square, and on out eastward.

But the Duncan mansion and the railroad were not the only early means of making West State street prominent. The people who brought their religion with them placed the first Presbyterian habitation, on the thoroughfare in 1831, and the Episcopalians soon followed with their brick structure but fronting Morgan street, one of the very first to have a bell and a pipe organ in the state, as the Presbyterian was the first Protestant church to have pews—according to the Rev. John M. Ellis, first pastor of that organization.

West State street soon got three notable buildings, in the Ayers "brick" where the bank is now, and the elegant new brick, Presbyterian church built in 1847, and its "Old School" neighbor opposite it, and the Baptist ministry were. These being soon followed by "Bateman's school," the old West District building, about 1850, after the Sangamon and Morgan railroad, had been taken to its place further north—the present line of the Wabash.

Even before this, however, in 1836, Dennis Rockwell had built his handsome residence right on the town line—where Mrs. Lilly Rockwell Frost resides. This home, with its fine style, and dormer windows, rivaled Duncan's as one of the attractions of the town. Further east in the original town, Thos. F. and Derrick A. January built their two stately residences, of brick, enough alike to be twins, facing each other from opposite sides of the street. These were last known as the Deweese and Dunlap homes, and a part of the latter is the hospitable "Dunlap House" of today.

There were other goodly houses out West State away back yonder, one being the dormer window house where William Campbell, that dignified gentleman, took the saintly Phoebe Adams as his bride—the place now known as the Rawlings house, at the northwest corner of Prairie street. Nearly opposite was the attractive home of J. W. King, since called the Grierson place. Just east the second door from Prairie street, was a little log house, but "Grandma Conn" lived there, and that made it conspicious. Further east, on the same north side of the street, was the Ellis house, framed in Cincinnati, and built here by the pastor of the Presbyterian church on the corner next east.

Still in the earlier days—in 1846, Col. Geo. M. Chambers built the first brick house on the west part of the street, into which the Colonel's son-in-law, Mr. Geo. W. Moore, recently moved.

John W. Lathrop built the present house, then one of the most attractive on the street, about 1853, and Fleming Stevenson built his handsome brick, nearly opposite— where Mrs. W. H. King's house now is—a little earlier. Judge Brown also built, and occupied the Greenleaf house in 1853.

In 1849, the two Goltra houses were opened to the families of Moore C. and Cornelius S. Goltra. The latter's daughters still occupying the homestead. At that time the Goltra wives could stand on their porches and signal each other with their handkerchiefs.

But before all this—probably in the 40's, Mr. A. Buckley had built the brick house where Dr. Day's sanatarium is now. This house was of the same style of architecture as the January houses, being two stories and a half high, with the gables to the east and west. Really they were city houses in style.

It was not till 1856 that Marshall P. Ayers put up the east side of his large house, and Augustus E. Ayers built his handsome residence in 1857.

The former, now gone, was opposite Prospect street, and the latter is at the head of Westminster street.

"The Owsley houses," built just alike, were put up in 1851 or 1853. They are just east of the A. E. Ayers house.

Away back, somewhere in "the thirtys or forties," Porter Clay built his cottage, now part of the residence of Mrs. W. D. Sanders, on the south side of the street, third door west of Prospect.

Dr. Ero Chandler's house, a story and a half brick, with basement, was one of the early places on the street, at the southwest corner of Fayette, Dr. Chandler gave the ground for the Female Academy and for the First Presbyterian church; moving away soon after.

In 1857 Wm. Holland's lumber yard, at the southwest corner of Church and State streets, gave way to the old "West Charge" Methodist church, now called Grace church.

Reference has previously been made in this series of sketches to the attractive story and half and basement, brick, house built by Mr. Cornelius Hook, and occupied later by Col. Wm. B. Warren and last by the Dr. J. T. Cassells. When this, at the northeast corner of Church and State, gave way to the State Street church building, in 1885, the four corners had each a church to give further notability to West State street.

A never to be forgotten improvement on West State, about 1850, was the plant now known as the Illinois School for the Deaf.

Perhaps West State has had no greater distinction given it than of being the road to the Morgan County Fair Grounds, from 1858 to 1885, or thereabouts. This place, with its beautiful woods and general attractions being made historical as the camping fround in 1861 of the Fourteenth Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, and where Col. U. S. Grant stopped on his march to fame—with his 21st Regt. of Illinois soldiers. And in the Fall of 1862 our own Morgan County regiment, the 101st, rendezvoused there.

These were but a few of the important events which, for years took our citizens by thousands out West State street.

Perhaps one other thing is specially worthy of notice in the story of State street. That is that Stephen A. Douglas is said to have made his first boarding place here at the "Heslep Tavern," now the office of Drs. Hardesty and Griswold, opposite the "Dunlap House."

The business development of the east end of West State street has mostly taken place since 1860, together with the building of the Court House in 1868-70.

Another place not to be forgotten, was the little building on the East side of the Kreider place—first west of Scott Block—where the Misses Melindy had a private school for youngsters for some years.

It would be manifestly unfair, in telling of those already referred to, not also to mention the following well known residents of West State before 1860; the David Kings, Bardens, Melindys, Goudys, McMackins, Hollands, Robbs, Neelys, McDonalds, Rearicks, Retters, Goodwins, Princes, Rannells, Eames, Clarks, the Joshua Moores, B. F. Stephensons, all on the north side of the street. On the south side had been the Enos, Batemans, Tunnels, Wiswells, Bancrofts—Joseph H. and Horace—Swifts, Simms, Edgertons, Wadsworths, Sages, Flacks, W. B. Johnsons, Glovers, Chas, Hardins, Halls, J. T. Cassels, George Dunlaps and Johnsons—all these known of by the writer, with others before his knowledge.

West State street has had some very interesting happenings, beneath its beautiful elms and maples.

One marvellously bright, clear day in the Fall of 1888, a Republican rally called "Fifer Day," had a scene of remarkable beauty. The procession of hundreds or thousand on horseback and on foot came down the street, each man in it bearing the banner of Freedom. They marched about eight abreast, and from the Deaf and Dumb to the Square one wave of red, white and blue rolled down the street in respendent glory.

Another wonderful occasion was the marching ranks of the "Grand Army of the Republic," in 1900, escorting Admiral Dewey down the old road where Lincoln and Grant and Yates and Douglas and Palmer and Joe Hooker has passed before him. Most beautiful and conspicious of all the decorations in honor of the victor of Manilla being the living flag of hundreds of school children grouped in front of the old West District School house.

But Lincoln and Douglas had had their triumphal processions of willing slaves along the street in 1858, where a great Fremont demonstration was staged in 1856.

Who can forget the Jacksonville celebrities who have walked beneath the embowering shade of the old "State road"?

Gen. Hardin, Gov. Duncan—with Clay and Webster as his guests;—Richard Yates on his way to college; Newton Bateman, the great teacher; Truman M. Post the preacher-teacher; Edward Beecher, Sturtevant and Tanner, presidents of the College; Jonathan B. Turner—not to forget the neighboring lawyer Edward D. Baker; Dennis Rockwell; the Rev. Jno. M. Ellis, Col. James Dunlap, and Wm. H. Milburn, the Blind Preacher.

CRIME AND JUSTICE

"The newspaper tells of a western man who embezzled thousands of dollars and got off free," complained the morose boarder. "If he had stolen a ham to feed his starving children, he probably would have been sent to the penitentiary."

"In which case he would get no more than he deserved," said the star boarder. "Any man who will feed ham to his starving children should be severely punished. It would almost certainly cause indigestion, and probably colic. Starving children should not receive anything stronger than gruel or mush until the pangs of hunger are abated.

"There is much flapdoodle, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, concerning the partiality of justice. We often hear that the great criminal receives a trifling punishment, while the man who steals a few pounds of Limburger cheese, for his suffering wife and children, is given the limit. I see nothing wrong in this. Genius should be encouraged, and mediocrity discouraged.

"The man who steals a ham or a few links of sausage, or anything of trifling value, lacks originality and initiative and all the qualities which command our respect. The courts punish him severely, not because of the enormity of his crime but to teach him to steal something worth while. If a man appears in court accused of stealing a few chickens, at the dark of the moon, the judge and jury must listen to a lot of wearisome and hackneyed evidence.

"Chicken stealing cases are pitifully common and the evidence always is the same. It has no sparkle, there is nothing gripping about it. The learned jurist and most of the jurymen have heard such stories hundreds of times, and are tired of them. So they naturally give the man the longest sentence the law allows. They know that if he is permitted to remain at large he will be stealing chickens again as soon as he is rested up, and they will have to hear the same stale old testimony once more.

"How refreshing to the judge and the jury and everybody in the court room must be the trial of a Napoleonic malefactor who has stolen a railway, or wrecked a bank. The details of his crime are as fascinating as a series of Sherlock Holmes stories. Here we have no cheap criminal who goes forth at midnight with a sack and a lantern, to kidnap a few ancient roosters, which he can sell at some moral family boarding house. No, Mrs. Jiggers, the prisoner at the bar is a man of intellect, and as the narrative of his operations proceeds, the judge and the jury are lost in admiration. They wish they had the nerve and acumen to play his game, and at the close of the trial they consider it an honor to acquit him."

NO EXPENSE FOR SALVATION ARMY CANVASSERS

Some persons have an erroneous opinion or information regarding the canvassers for the Salvation Army campaign. It has been reported that the people working in this good cause are getting pay when that is not at all the case as all work absolutely free. In fact, practically a hundred cents of each dollar contributed to this cause goes directly to the treasury of the organization and it will be used most judiciously. The final round up banquet is a treat of Mayor Rodgers and no expense to the campaign or the Army at all.

CUBS WIN OPENER FROM CINCINNATI

Toney Proves Wild and Reds' Fielding Is Ragged at Critical Times—Philadelphia Defeats New York.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 12.—Toney's wildness, coupled with ragged fielding by the Cincinnti club at critical times and some exceptionally timely hitting by the Cubs enabled Chicago to win the opener here today by a score of 7 to 1. The score:

Mrs. Thomas Ramsey of Murrayville was a visitor yesterday in Jacksonville.

MORNING GLANCES.

The big show opened yesterday and thruout the land people forgot all about the European war. They did not care who got Verdun and cared less whether Villa was dead or alive.

Some surprises were sprung in both leagues. Among them was the defeat of the White Sox by the Tigers by a score of 4 to 0. Coveleskie hurled for the Tigers and held the Rowland clan to three hits. Incidentally he got four hits, one more than were made by the entire Sox team. Ty Cobb got away to a flying start, getting two safeties and one double.

With the Federal league out of the way it looks like a prosperous season for the big leagues. A crowd of 33,000 turned out to see the White Sox-Detroit game, the largest ever at an opening game. Nineteen thousand fans saw the Phillies wallop the Giants after the latter had gained a two run lead.

Larry Doyle had the honor of making the first run in the National league Wednesday, crossing the pan on Kauff's long fly to Cravath. Graney of Cleveland scored the first run in the American league.

After looking like dubs during the training season the Cubs came to life and defeated Cincinnati yesterday by a score of 7 to 1. The Cubs made nine safeties at opportune times which, coupled with Toney's wildness, enabled them to romp home under a pull.

Max Flack, taken to the Cubs by Tinker from the Federals, got two of the wallops credited to Chicago. Flack is one good ball player and unless we are mistaken will make a name for himself in the National league.

It required Boston to extend herself to defeat the Macks in the opener. Nabors held the world's champions to five hits. The Mackmen got four hits, McInnes getting two doubles. Each team used two pitchers.

Benny Kauff did not get a hit in the opening game. He scored Doyle with a sacrifice fly which helped some tho the Giants finally lost.

The Braves beat Brooklyn in the opener by a score of 5 to 1. Rudolph kept the Brooklyn hits well scattered except in the fourth when their only run was scored.

It must have been a bitter pill for McGraw to have Stock whom he discarded win the opening game for Philadelphia. Stock was walked in the ninth with the score tied, stole second and scored on two wild pitches.

Jimmy Callahan's Pirates lost the opener to St. Louis. St. Louis won thru errors, both Doak and Kantlehner pitching good ball.

Washington and New York battled eleven innings in the opening game, the Senators winning out by a score of 3 to 2. Caldwell and Johnson both pitched in mid-season form.

NEWS NOTES OF SPORTS

Chicago—"Death Valley" Jim Scott, the tall veteran pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, was sent back to Chicago right after the game against Topeka club, a few days ago, so that he may consult a nose and ear specialist here. Scott contracted a cold just before the club left Mineral Wells, Tex., and his ear began to bother him. He could not sleep at night. He pitched a full game against the Topeka Western league club, and had little difficulty winning. He then boarded a train for home. Scott has been chosen to start the American league race on the mound for the Sox, and Rowland wants him ready.

Urbana, Ill.—Illinois has decided to send a relay team and one or two individuals to the Drake relays, April 22, the University Council having granted permission.

Layafette, Ind.—With practicaliy a veteran team, Purdue University students think they see chances of their team winning the conference baseball championship this year. Coach Pattisoh has had his proteges out of doors for several days and says if the good weather continues the Purdue nine will be ready when the season opens.

The schedule which is unusually long one follows: April 8, Wabash at Purdue; April 12, Rose Polly at Purdue; April 15, Northwestern at Purdue; April 22, Illinois at Purdue; April 26, Purdue at Wabash; April 29, Indiana at Purdue; May 2, Notre Dame at Purdue; May 5, Purdue at Beloit; May 8, Purdue at Wisconsin; May 12, Winconsin at Purdue; May 13, Purdue at Ohio State; May 17, Ohio State at Purdue; May 19, Purdue at Northwestern; May 20, Purdue at Chicago; May 25, Iowa at Purdue; May 31, Chicago at Purdue; June 3, Purdue at Indiana.

Bloomington, Ind.—Notwithstanding the scarcity of promising material, Coach Fred Beebe, believes he will be able to put Indiana University near the top in the race for the conference baseball championship this year. Beebe has been hard at work developing men for the infield position, except 3rd base which will be held down by Capt. Vedder Garo.

The season opens April 10 when the Crimson plays four games with the Indianapolis American Association teams. Indiana is depending upon Shively and Ridley to do most of the work in the pitching department. The schedule follows:

April 10, 11, 12, and 13, Indianapolis American Ass'n at Bloomington; April 14, Northwestern at Bloomington; April 21, Illinois at Bloomington; April 29, Purdue at Lafayette; May 6, Depauw at Bloomington; May 9, Chinese University of Hawaii at Bloomington; May 12, Northwestern at Evanston; May 13, Illinois at Urbana; May 18, Ohio State at Bloomington; May 22, Depauw at Newcastle; May 26, Iowa at Bloomington; May 29, Ohio at Columbus; June 3, Purdue at Bloomington.

Columbus, O.—Ohio State University's baseball prospects appear fair for the opening Apd. 19, with veterans of last year's team in the outfield and a good squad of younger men rounding into shape for infield positions. Some doubt exists as to the producing quality of the new pitchers, however. Three veteran catchers are on hand.

Here is Ohio State University's baseball schedule for 1916:

April 19, Western Reserve at Columbus; April 21, Kentucky State at Lexington; April 22, Kentucky State at Lexington; April 25, Illinois at Columbus; May 5, Illinois at Urbana; May 6, Chicago at Chicago; May 11, Ohio Wesleyan at Deleware; May 13, Purdue at Columbus; May 17, Purdue at Lafayette; May 18, Indiana at Bloomington; May 20, Oberlin at Oberlin; May 25, Ohio Wesleyan at Columbus; May 29, Indiana at Columbus; May 30, Ohio University at Athens; June 1, Denison at Granville; June 6, Chicago at Columbus.

Chicago—Among the thirty men who have reported to Coach Stagg for spring football practice at the University of Chicago are eight freshmen classed as "promising." The are Hanisch, Smith, Gorgas, Higgins, Fluegel, Gentles, Setzer and Annan. Of the ten "C" men expected back next fall, Capt. Jackson, Brodie, Schafer, Agar, and Norgren are out with the squad. Track work is keeping Pershing, Fisher and Brelos from gridiron practice and Cahn is playing baseball. Gordon probably will join the football squad soon.

St. Louis—Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Americans is about ready to begin cutting down his squad. Only a few players are certain of a place on the team.

The players apparently in favor are Pitchers Weilman, Davenport, Koob, Plank, Fincher, Groom, Park and Hamilton; Infielders Borton, Pratt, Johnson, Austin and Lavan or Deal; Outfielders, Tobin, Shotton, Marsans and Sisler; Catchers, Hartley, Clemons and Severid.

At present Jones has five pitchers who are ready for duty. Earl Hamilton is showing more speed than at any time last season, and his position probably will depend on his showing in the early games altho Jones is making no promises.

Lawrence, Kan.—Miss Hazel Pratt, director of women's sports at the University of Kansas has predicted that the days of man coaches for high school girls' basketball teams are numbered. Miss Pratt asserts that men do not know how to coach women in athletics and points to the fact that in the recent high school basketball tournament here three of the four girls' teams that reached the finals were coached by women.

"Men do not make the distinction between men's and women's standards", said Miss Pratt. "They do not realize that in most kinds of athletics a woman has a distinct and separate method of doing things. A woman attempting progress in sports by using a man's way makes me think of an aeroplane trying to scoot along the ground like an automobile."

Chicago—A committe including John C. Neeley of Chicago, is at work perfecting the organization of the new Missouri Valley Tennis Association, which will comprise four states, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa, originally within the territory of the Western Lawn Tennis Association. The division was made because of what the United States Lawn Tenis Association considered the "geographical bulkiness of the Western's old territory. Among the clubs expected to be included in the Missouri Valley Association are the Burlington (Iowa) Tennis club, the Des Moines Golf and Tennis club, the Grinnell (Iowa) Tennis club, the Interstate Tennis club of Sioux City, the Omaha Field club, the St. Louis Amateur Athletic Association, the Municipal Athletic Association of St. Louis, the Springfield, Mo., Country club, the Neodesha, Kas., Tennis club; the Independence, Kas., Tennis club, and the four leading Kansas City organizations—the Rockhill Tennis club, the Kansas City Athletic association, the Kansas City Field club and the Ivanhoo Tennis club.

Chicago—Fredie Welsh, stopping over a day in Chicago, declared he would retire from the ring a year from the seventh of next July—exactly three years from the day he won the title of lightweight champion from Willie Ritchie. Welsh says he wants to own a farm on Long Island and there run a physical culture resort for tired business men and incidently raise terriers.

St. Louis—The Columbian Athletic club of St. Louis will make a strong bid for the Western District track championship, which this year probably will be held in September. The Columbian Athletic Club is building a track which will rank with the best in the city. The meet to be held this year at the new track, it is believed, will be more successful than the one held by the club last year at the Maxwelton track, which was rain-soaked. Only a few athletes entered last year.

Madison, Wis.—The return of several of the baseball players of last year encourages the University of Wisconsin students in the belief that the baseball team will have a high percentage this year. The opening game will come on April 22, when Chicago will play Wisconsin at Madison. The University of Wisconsin is short on pitchers, having only the veteran Art Moon and several recruits who have not shown up well as yet. The infield looks strong—Levis on third, Peterson on second, and Slaby at short are last year's men. Captain Foulware is the only veteran outfielder.

COVALESKIE HOLDS SOX TO THREE HITS

DETROIT WINS EASILY BY 4 TO 0 SCORE.

Long Hits by Cobb, Veach, Bush and Covaleskie Are Factors in Tiger Victory and Cause Retirement of Russel in Second Inning.

Chicago, April 12.—Pitcher Covaleskie made four hits today, one more than he allowed the whole Chicago team, and Detroit won 4 to 0, scoring all its runs in the first two innings. Long hits by Cobb, Bush, Veach and Covaleskie, who included a triple and a double in his four, were factors in the visitors' victory and caused the retirement of Russell in the second inning. Faber, his successor, did well and gave way to a pinch hitter, and Wolfgang held the Tigers safe in his part of the game.

Fielding features were catches by Stanage and by Veach of Detroit.

One of the several bands which was on hand to add to the gayety of the opening game, concluded its work with the playing of "The Wearing of the Green." The tune was very appropriate, as President Comiskey had just completed painting his seats and chairs green and paint had not fully died when the game started. Hundreds of spectators reported to the office after the game displaying green paint on their garments.

The crowd, estimated at 33,000 persons, was the largest that has witnessed an opening game in the local American league park. The score:

Cleveland, Ohio, April 12.—Cleveland lost its opening game to St. Louis 6 to 1 chiefly because it could not hit Groom, ex-Federal league pitcher. The delegation is known as the Comiskey-Rowland-White Sox Boosters' club. It will parade the downtown districts and march to the grounds. Headquarters have been arranged for them at a downtown hotel.

RECEPTION TO WOODSON PASTOR

Friday evening of this week the congregation of the Woodson Presbyterian church will have in the Odd Fellows hall a reception to their new pastor, Rev. Mr. Lathom and family. The people of the Woodson Christian church are cordially invited to participate.

WHAT CAN YOU DO FOR CATARRH?

What? Ask yourself the question. How often has the doctor failed, as also ointments, salves, vapours? What you should do is to try S. S. S.

This easy, common-sense method—that costs so little—that is so quickly and vigorously effective—is often the last resort of many Catarrh sufferers. Why, it is hard to say. One of the trained specialists of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta—a physician of standing and national reputation because of his knowledge of blood disorders, made the assertion that if the majority of chronic Catarrhal Victims would buy and faithfully take S. S. S., they could effectually get rid of Catarrh.

S. S. S. goes straight to the seat of trouble, the blood. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to exchange acids and irritating substances for red blood corpuscles that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all Catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in process of purification.

S. S. S. is made from roots and herbs that are food and tonic for the blood. It stimulates—gives the blood power to throw off poisons. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely Catarrh often infests the entire system.

You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as Eczema, Rash, Lupus, Tetter, Psoriasis, Boils, and all other diseased conditions of the blood. For special advice on any blood disease write The Swift's Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 11, Atlanta, Ga. Avoid substitutes.

Give your Child Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs and Colds.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation.

"I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for the past three years and use it continually in my family. My children are very fond of it for it keeps them free from cold. I can't say too much for it, and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." Mrs. A. S. Haines, Franconia, N. H.

J. C. BRADY

A druggist has many opportunities to make lasting friends of his customers," said Mr. J. C. Brady, popular Rexall Pharmacist of Fall River, Mass. "The very nature of his business draws their confidence for little helpful suggestions on the matter of health. Many people have thanked me for recommending Rexall Orderlies as the best relief for constipation and its resultant ills. Put up in dainty candy tablet form, they are pleasant to the taste and make an ideal laxative for the home—for men, women and children alike."

AMIABLE JOSEFFY.

His Genial Courtesy and a Rebuff He Once Received.

Rafael Joseffy was among the most famous and also the most finished pianoforte players a generation ago and one of the most charming players of Chopin's music, I fancy, that ever lived. One of his most amiable traits was his want of artistic jealousy and his unfailing kindness and courtesy toward his colleagues. This no less when he was in the heydey of his popularity as a virtuoso than after he had retired from the platform to the regret and wonderment of his admirers, who were as numerous as the lovers of pianoforte music.

During the decade from 1880 to 1890 he really had no rival among the pianists who gave concerts in New York. His popularity burned with a steady and lambent flame no matter how much enthusiasm blazed up for these newcomers. All these Joseffy met in a spirit of unselfish sympathy. He took Conrad Ansorge under his wing, metaphorically speaking, and always treated him and spoke of him as if he were a peer, if not a better. He acclaimed Rosenthal and always hastened to the artist's room with his felicitations whenever a new candidate for public favor presented himself.

His conduct was not always appreciated or reciprocated, as an anecdote frequently repeated by his friends indicates. When De Pachmann gave his first recital in New York Joseffy was as usual among the first to offer his congratulations.

"Herr Pachmann," he said, "you played like a little god!"

"Who's the big god?" was the ungracious retort. "You, perhaps?"

But Joseffy expressed no resentment at the rebuff; he kept on admiring the admirable things in De Pachmann's playing just the same and also expressing it.—New York Tribune.

SHE KNEW COFFEE.

Result of a Test That Was Made by Sir Hiram Maxim.

A great many people who flatter themselves that they are judges of coffee or other beverages may learn a lesson of caution from the experiments carried on by Sir Hiram Maxim when he was trying to find a palatable preparation of wheat and coffee.

It occurred to me, says Sir Hiram in "My Life," that very few people knew much about coffee. One Sunday I brought out from the Maxim Lamp works about thirty young men and women. My stenographer was also present. She was one of those young ladies that know it all—from whose decisions there is no appeal.

I had cleared off a long bench and arranged on it a large number of cups, milk, sugar, cream, much coffee and plenty of apparatus for making coffee. I got from the army and navy stores various kinds of coffee that were supposed to be the very best in the world, such as Mocha, Java and so forth, and I also got from a dealer in coffee some of the sweepings and siftings of his shop—small, imperfect and broken kernels. These I freed from dust and dirt, roasted and ground and mixed with three times their weight of chicory. I was ready for the test.

My shorthand writer came in, tasted the Mocha, the Java, the Costa Rica, and pronounced them all very bad. She then tried some of my wheat coffee and some of what was half wheat and half coffee, which, she said, were also bad, but not so bad as the others. But when she reached the mixture of siftings and chicory she was delighted. "That is coffee!" she said, with an air of finality. "That's it! That's the right stuff!"

In all probability the young lady had never tasted a cup of genuine coffee in her life until that Sunday morning.

First Seal of the United States.

The first great seal of the United States was cut for Uncle Sam in 1782, and the first document to bear its imprint is dated September, 1782. It is a parchment commission granting General Washington full power to arrange with the British for an exchange of prisoners of war. The document is signed by John Hancock, president of congress, and countersigned by Charles Thomas, secretary. The seal was impressed upon the parchment over a white wafer festooned with red in the upper left hand corner.—Magazine of American History.

Assisting a Selection.

"Hurry up, now," he growled, "and order what you want."

"But I can't tell what I want," she complained. "This menu is so confusing! It offers oysters in all styles, but I can't tell what style I want from the menu."

"Well, maybe the waiter can show you some fashion plates."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

PASTORS HELD CONFERENCE AT Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Sent to Interest Men and Boys in Join the Church Movement.

At the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday there was a dinner to which the pastors and a delegation from each church were invited to be present to discuss a movement seeking out, especially men and boys in a join-the-church movement. All the church pastors of the city were present and from each there were also several representatives. Secretary Snyder said that the object was to enlist the churches in a movement to seek out those not now members of any church and try to induce them to join some one. He said in brief:

The spirit of cooperation and unity among the churches in this place is very happy and better than I have found in some places. We have an obligation to the ones not now members of any church. It is a work that angels might envy but cannot perform. The prophet Ezekiel speaks words of warning to those who are on the watchtowers of Zion; the blood of the lost will be required at the hands of him who failed to do his duty.

We need genuine and sincere men for the work. We need men who will be willing to speak to the ones without the fold. We should not go empty handed but have with us the word of God on our lips. As the Master says Abide in Me and I in you so shall we bear fruit. Daniel commands those who turn many to righteousness and sees the Apostle James. The Y. M. C. A. is the servant of the churches and asks them to do this work. It is necessary to organize thoroughly as for financial campaign. Each church should have a general leader and then squads with special leaders and do the work thoroughly. As did the apostles, go two and two; use wisdom in approaching men. We talk to men on every other subject; why do we avoid religion?

Rev. Percy W. Stephens said his church was already working on such a plan and would gladly cooperate. Rev W. E. Spoonts said he had tried it elsewhere with excellent results; in one church 128 additions.

Rev. F. B. Madden suggested a general committee of one from each church and it was appointed as follows Westminister, George C. Guthrie; Congregational A D Fairbank; Christian. Earl Johnston; Grace A. G. Cody; State, T. M. Tomlinson; Northminister, Joshua Vasconcellos; Centenary, J. A. Taylor; Brooklyn, T. B. Reeve; Baptist, J. W. Chipchase.

The committee had a short session and appointed Friday at 5:30 p. m. for the next meeting.

A vote of thanks to the ladies of Grace church for the dinner was passed.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulator, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable aftereffects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Sentanel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Sentanel Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

STOCK MARKET AGAIN IS IN A STATE OF SUSPENDED ANIMATION

Business in First Hour Attains to Moderate Proportions but Succeeding Hours Witness a Steady Diminution.

New York, April 12.—The stock market again was in a state of suspended animation today evidently awaiting the outcome of affairs abroad and at home. Business in the first hour attained to moderate proportions wholly at the cost of values, but the succeeding hours witnessed a steady diminution. Lowest quotations were made in the last hour, United States Steel and Petroleum leading the decline.

Wall street was less interested or concerned in the sluggish movement of securities than in such significant happenings as a further break in French exchange and increased weakness in Russian rates.

The Paris check fell to 604½, establishing a new official minimum for thisg remittance since the war and rubles declined ⅝ to 30¾ without evoking any response in autnoritative quarters. Conspicious stocks of the day, so far as the market could be said to have any leaders were Crucible and United States Steel, United States Industrial Alcohol, the mercantile marines, rubbers and allied issues. Kennecott and Anaconda coppers, Mexican petroleum and American zinc. These stocks contributed more than their quota to the total sales of 325,000 shares.

Rails were a negligible quality at all times, altho holding more firmly than specialties. In the latter group Bethelehem Steel dropped 14½ points to 465 and Willys-Overland 5 to 228.

BULLISH CROP CONDITIONS CARRY WHEAT MARKET UPGRADE

Closing Prices, Altho Unsettled, Are 1¾ to 2⅛ Cents Net Higher—Corn Gains a Shade.

Chicago, April 12.—Bullish crop conditions thruout the winter wheat belt, including serious lack of moisture in Nebraska, carried the wheat market today sharply upgrade. Closing prices, altho unsettled, were 1¾ to 2⅛c net higher, with May at $1.19@1.20 and July at $1.17⅛.

Corn gained a shade to ⅛c; oats finished ⅛@¼s to 1@⅝c down, and provisions up 5c to 22½c.

Assertions that European continental requirements were not being adequately met by Argentine and Australian shipments tended somewhat to help lift the wheat market here. Cold and snow in the northwest implying delay to seeding counted also to some extent as a handicap on the bears.

Corn hardened only a little in response to wheat strength. The circumstance that stocks were fairly liberal and that cash demand was slow seemed to act as nearly a complete offset. Oats dragged lower on account of seeding progress in Illinois and Iowa. Canadian oats appeared to be gaining favor for shipment at the opening of navigation.

Higher prices on hogs brought about an advance in provisions. The bulk of the business was in lard.

Corn—No. 3 white, 74½@766c; No. 4 white, 73½@73¾c; No. 2 yellow, 79@79½c; No. 3 yellow, 74½@75½c; No. 3 yellow, 73½@75¼c; No. 5 yellow, 71½@72c.

Gates In Norway.

A curious feature to travelers in the highroads of Norway is the great number of gates—upward of 10,000 in the whole country—which have to be opened. These gates, which either mark the boundaries of the farms or separate the home fields from the waste lands, constitute a considerable inconvenience and delay to the traveler, who has to stop his vehicle and get down to open them.

Magnet the Thief of Time.

The magnet is responsible for a great deal of trouble with watches, as any jeweler will tell you. Never go near a dynamo with a watch in your pocket unless you are sure that it is made of nonmagnetic material. This applies especially to the hair spring.—Farm and Fireside.

A Blessed Barrier.

"How did you like that interior setting?" asked the realistic producer. "For a real room, except that it had only three walls, could you beat it?"

"Well," said the morose critic, "I'd have been more contented during the play if you had added the fourth wall."—Judge.

Sure Sign.

Nellie—Do you think Paul cares for Mamie? Emma—Did you ever hear a young man refer to a red haired girl as having auburn tresses unless he loved her?—Exchange.

Mrs. W. B. Leeper of Chandlerville was a visitor in the city Wednesday.

ZEPHYR FLOUR

Just because it tastes like Mother's! That's why ZEPHYR FLOUR bread is the favorite of most men.

All that smacking deliciousness of old fashioned bread can be obtained from the full-flavored richness of ZEPHYR FLOUR. Not a bit of the twangy sweetness of its sun-ripened wheat is lost in the milling of ZEPHYR—the chemist sees to that.

Searching tests made hourly by chemist and baker insure uniformity which guarantees identical baking results from every sack. Using ZEPHYR means good bread at every baking. We selected because of its finer flavor and unfailing satisfaction. You'll choose it, too, for the same reason, after you have tried it just once.

BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

S. S. S. Removes the Cause.

Specialists have agreed that Catarrh is an infection of the blood. Once you get your blood cleansed of the Catarrhal poisons you will be relieved of Catarrh —the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable breath. It was caused in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with some one who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long-standing case, be sure to write the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It is their inability to do their work properly that causes your pain and misery. Foley Kidney Pills lend to middle-aged and elderly people the spryness and elasticity of youth. They take away the cause of backache, stiff and aching joints, rheumatic pains and annoying bladder and urinary troubles. Try them today.

ANTI SALOON LEAGUE SUNDAY, MAY 21st

The managers of the Anti-Saloon League have asked for a Sunday on which they may occupy the pulpits of the churches of Jacksonville and yesterday the ministers met and discussed the matter and decided on Sunday, May 21st as the day which will be given up to the cause.

The Grand Teton.

The view of the Teton peaks from Ashton, Ida., is superb and doubtless has been the inducement for many a tourist and sportsman to leave the main line for the Teton range and the Jackson Hole country in pursuit of elk, sheep, trout and unsurpassed mountain scenery. Owen Wister's "Virginian" was glad to get out of these mountains because, as he explained, "they're most too big."

The average American, who has only a vague conception of the natural beauties of the Rocky mountains and imagines that real alpine forms are found only in Switzerland, must be surprised when he first sees the lofty peaks of the Tetons. Even a man who has climbed the Matterborn would think twice before daring to try Grand Teton. According to local report, this peak has been ascended only twice, in 1872 and 1894. As the snowclad mountains along the Alaskan archipelago, rising to cloud reaching heights, stand with their feet bathed in the ocean, so from a viewpoint near Ashton the Tetons, towering to the sky, rise from the billowy surface of a sea of golden grain. —Geological Survey Bulletin.

Howard and Prison Fever.

Typhus, which under the name of "prison fever" was once rampant in England, held no terrors for John Howard, the prison reformer. While in a cell he would hold to his nose a vial of aromatic vinegar and on going home would wash and change his clothes, though even these precautions he later abandoned. People thought his powers bordered on the magical, pressed him for his secret and refused to believe his explanations that his immunity was due to fearlessness, cleanliness and temperance. He ate no flesh and very little of anything; he drank neither wine nor spirits and went to bed early and rose early. And his asceticism enabled him to let light into the most noisome dungeons and to live to the age of sixty-four.—London Graphic.

Deal In Trousers.

The village innkeeper had been persuaded to lend a customer a pair of black trousers for funeral solemnities. The sad occasion was long gone, weeks had passed away, and still Mr. J. looked in vain for the return of his garments. They became urgently necessary, and he sent a messenger to demand them back again.

Said the messenger to the wrongful detainer of the goods: "Mr. J. must have 'em. He's going to a funeral."

"They won't do for a funeral," was the reply. "I've been workin' at the quarry in 'em."

"What will Mr. J. do, then?" asked the messenger.

"Why, borrow a pair," replied the other, "same as what I did."—London Tit-Bits.

Largest Hydraulic Lift Lock.

The largest hydraulic lift lock in the world is at Petersborough, Canada. It consists of two great steel boxes or pontoons, moving up and down between guiding towers. When a boat moves into one of the two pontoons the lock gates are closed behind it, and water is pumped into the other pontoon until it becomes heavier than that containing the boat, which then, being overweighted, rises bodily into the air until it reaches the level of the upper canal. The boats are lifted a total distance of sixty-five feet, the gates and capstans being operated entirely by hydraulic power. The time of lockage for boats is about twelve minutes, the actual time of the vertical lift being one and one-half minutes.—St. Nicholas.

Be Prepared.

Daniel Webster once told a friend that his great speech in reply to Hayne, which is the high water mark of modern eloquence, but which at the time was supposed to have been delivered without preparation, had been substantially prepared long before. When called upon suddenly to reply to the fiery Carolinian's attacks, which so alarmed the New Englanders at the capital, he was entirely at ease and ready for the fray, for, as he said, he had "only to turn to his notes tucked away in a pigeonhole" and refresh his recollection. "If Hayne," he said, "had tried to make a speech to fit my notes he could not have hit them better. No man is inspired by the occasion. I never was."

The Liberty Boys.

The name of Liberty Boys is the name by which the Sons of Liberty of the American Revolution were familiarly known. They were the men who fought the first battles of the colonists, who opposed the stamp act and participated in the Boston tea party. A flag hoisted upon the flagstaff that stood beside Liberty tree, in Hanover square, Boston, was the signal at which they assembled.

A Giant English Oak.

Winfarthing oak, according to reliable testimony, was 700 years old at the time of the conquest. William surveyed it closely before making his famous remark, "Could I live to be but one-fourth the age of this tree the world would be mine."

Ending the Argument.

"There are always two sides to a question."

"Quite so. And I don't like a fellow who insists on expounding both of 'em."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AN UNUSUAL MORTGAGE

A document somewhat unusual in phraseology and especially truthful was filed in the office of the circuit clerk and recorder recently. It is a chattel mortgage given by Alex Hamm and witnessed in the presence of Abe L. Meacham as justice of the peace. A number of cows are enumerated in the list of livestock and one of the animals is described as a Jersey "as old as the hills." Ordinarily the number of years is given if there is any statement about age of animals covered by chattel mortgage, but Mr. Hamm was evidently somewhat in doubt in this instance and was very anxious to tell the whole truth.

Zemo for Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means—no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is sure and safe, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use is zemo, for it is pure and also inexpensive.

JUST TRY THIS WHEN HAIR GROWTHS APPEAR.
(Modes of Today)

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attend the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone—Adv.

McCLURE WON IN CONTEST WITH MINER FOR STATE COMMITTEE

Bitter Feeling Developed in Progress of Campaign—Miner Charges Deneen Influence was Cause.

Interest in the twenty-first congressional district centered over the contest between J. B .McClure of Carlinville and Lewis H. Miner of Springfield, candidates for Republican state central committeemen. It was really a contest for party control and was one of the warmest on record in Sangamon county, where sharp contests frequently occur. Mr. Miner had the open support of Senator Sherman but he was defeated by Mr. McClure. Miner had a plurality of 760 in Sangamon county and an estimated plurality of 50 in Montgomery county. But these figures were offset by McClure's plurality of 750 in Macoupin county and his plurality of 355 in Christian county . Mr. Miner is one of the proprietors of the State Journal, and for days prior to the election had a series of articles attacking McClure and the coterie of politicians to which he belongs.

Judging from a State Journal editorial yesterday, Mr. Miner considers that the influence of Charles S. Deneen was largely responsible for the McClure-Miner contest. The State Journal considers Deneen a "boss" of the undesirable type and declares that the former governor is seeking to build up a machine to control in the coming election.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEMBERSHIP SUPPER AT WESTMINSTER

Encouraging Reports Presented from all Departments—One Hundred New Members for 1916 Is Mark Set by Pastor.

It was a very pleasant family gathering that the people of Westminster church had last night. According to the anouncement made Sunday members of the church gathered in the parlors for the annual supper and business session. All members of the church and congregation had been especially requested to attend and practically all of them were present. A committee from the Laides' Aid Society, with Mrs. R. R. Stevenson as the chairman, made the supper arrangements and a generous menu was provided. The serving was done by young men of the church.

After the pastor, Rev. E. B. Landis, had said grace, the serving of the supper began promptly at 6:30 o'clock, and the table arangements were such that nearly all the members could be seated at one time. Afterward came a brief social hour and then the business session, with the pastor presiding as moderator. Reports were made from the various church societies and organizations and all of them gave indication that the church has had a prosperous year and all the organized work is now in active condition. Particular interest attached to the remarks made by Mr. Landis with reference to the adition of new members and he said the mark is for 100 new members during 1916. In this connection he explained with some details the "Join the church" movement which has just been started by representatives of the various Protestant churches. That the 100 mark is not too ambitious is indicated by the number of members received at a recent service and knowledge that still others are to be received Easter Sunday.

The members decided to enlarge the board of trustees from seven to nine and elected John H. Russel and Charles Gunn as the new members. Four elders were chosen, W. D. McCormick, G. C. Guthrie and J. A. Munson for three years and Prof. C. Spruit for two years. J. H. Rayhill was elected a deacon. Reports were presented as follows:

Missionary Society—Mrs. R. R. Stevenson.

The Guild—Miss Louise Holmes.

Ladies' Aid Society—Miss Ainslie Moore.

Mission Band — Miss Jessie Holmes.

Sunday School—G. C Guthrie.

Sunday School Treasurer—C. B. Massey.

Trustees' Report—Mrs. G. C. Guthrie, treasurer.

Deacons—Prof. C. Spruit.

The Session—W. T. Brown.

Mr. Ensley Moore presented the necrology report for the year, mentioning the names of a number of persons who have been lost to Westminster. He referred to the good the deceased members have done in their lifetime and declared that their works do follow them." The annual meeting was one of the most interesting ever held by the church society.

government in order that the investigation might thereupon be brought to a conclusion.

Fourth Section.

"The British steamer Eagle Point —This steamer in the forenoon of March 28 was called upon to halt by a German submarine thru signal and shot about one hundred—not one one hundred and thirty—sea miles from the southwest coast of Ireland but proceeded. She was thereupon fired upon until halted, and, without further orders, lowered two boats in which the crew took their places. After the commandant conviced himself that the boats, which had hoisted sails had gotten clear of the steamer he sank the steamer.

"At the time of the sinking a north-northwest wind of the strength of two, not 'a storm wind' and light swell, not 'a heavy sea,' as stated in the given description prevailed. The boats therefore had every prospect of being picked up very quickly because the place of the sinking lay on a much used steamer path. ADD GERARD—GAL TWO 2w.-i

"If the crew of the steamer used only two small boats for saving themselves, the responsibility falls upon themselves, since there were still upon the steamer as the submarine could establish, at least four big collapsible boats.

Fifth Section.

"The French Steamer Sussex:—Ascertainment of the act whether the Channel Steamer Sussex was damaged by a German submarine was rendered extremely difficult because no exact time, place and attendant circumstances of the sinking were known and also because it was impossible to obtain a picture of the ship before April 6th. Consequently the investigation had to be extended to all actions undertaken on the day in question—March 24th—in the channel in the general region between Folkestone and Dieppe.

"In this region on March 24th, a long black craft without a flag having a gray funnel, small gray forward works and two high masts was encountered about the middle of the English channel by a German submarine. The commander reached the definite conclusion that it was a war vessel and indeed a mine layer of the recently built English Arabis class. He was led to that conviction by the following facts:

"First, by the plain, unbroken deck of the ship's; second, the form of the stern, sloping downward and backward like a war vessel; third, she was painted like a war vessel; fourth, the high speed developed, about eighteen knots; fifth, the circumstances that the vessel did not keep a course northward of the light buoys between Dungeness and Beachy Head, which, according to the frequent and unvarying observations of German submarines is about the course of commercial vessels but kept in the middle of the channel on a course about in the direction of LeHavre.

"Consequently he attacked the vessel at 3:55 in the afternoon, middle European time, one and one half sea miles east of Bull Rock bank, the submarine being submerged. The torpedo struck and caused such a violent explosion in the forward part of the ship that the entire forward part was torn away to the bridge. The particularly violent explosion warrants the certain conclusion that great amounts of munitions were aboard.

"The German commander made a sketch of the vessel attacked by him two drawing of which are enclosed. The picture of the Steamer Sussex, two copies of which are also inclosed is reproduced photographically from the English paper The Daily Graphic of the 27th ultimato.

"A comparison of the sketch and the picture shows that the craft attacked is not identical with the Sussex; the difference in the position of the stack and shape of the stern is particularly striking.

"No other attack whatever by German submarines at the time in question for the Sussex upon the route between Folkestone and Dieppe occurred. The German government must therefore assume that the injury to the Sussex is attributable to another cause than an attack by a German submarine.

"For an explanation of the cause the fact may perhaps be serviceable that no less than twenty six English mines were exploded by shots by German naval forces in the channel on the first and second of April, alone. The entire sea in that vicinity is in fact, endangered by floating mines and by torpedoes that have not sunk.

"Off the English coast it is further endangered in an increasing degree, thru German mines which have been laid against enemy naval forces.

"Should the American government have at its disposal further material for a conclusion upon the case of the Sussex, the German government would ask that it be communicated with in order to subject this material also to an investigation. In the event that differences of opinion should develop hereby between the two governments, the German government now declares itself ready to have the facts of the case established thru mixed commissions of investigation in accordance with the third article of The Hague agreement for the peace settlement of international conflicts—November 18, 1907.

"The undersigned, while requesting that you communicate the above to the government of the United States takes occasion to renew to the ambassador of his distinguished esteem.

(Signed) "Jagow."

WORKERS MADE SECOND DAY'S CANVASS FOR SALVATION ARMY

Campaign is to End Tonight With Supper at Y. M. C. A.—Managers Confident that Fund will be Secured.

The second day's campaign for Salvation Army funds brought fairly satisfactory results but various affairs served to interfere to some extent with the workers and a number of team members were unable to canvass. Today special plans have been made to have all workers cover the district allotted to them. Following the canvass all will meet at the Y. M. C. A. for supper, when results of the canvass will be announced and the receipts and subscription cards turned in. While a considerable sum is still to be raised those most actively in charge of the work are entirely confident that the campaign will close successfully tonight and that announcement can be made that the complete sum needed for the proposed improvements had been secured.

P. O. CLERKS' BALL TEAM

Clerks of the post office are planning the organization of a baseball team and tho no officers have been elected nor positions announced, there seems to be plenty of good material and members of the force feel confident in the formation of a strong nine. It is probable that the post office will join the Twilight league, to be organized for five inning games during the evening hours this spring and summer.

CHARLES W. GOLTRA FORMER RESIDENT DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Deceased Went to Coast in Hope of Benefitting His Health—Sisters Here Received News of Death Wednesday.

Mrs. C. A. Catlin received a telegram Wednesday announcing the death of her brother, Charles W. Goltra at Alta Pasadena, Calif., Wednesday morning. Mr. Goltra had been in failing health for several years and went to California two years ago last fall in the hope of getting relief.

Charles W. Goltra was well known to many of the older residents of this city. He was the son of Cornelius and Agnes Goltra and was born in this city Oct. 20, 1845. His early life was spent here where he attended the public schools. After completing his school work here he went to Crawfordsville Ind., where he entered Wabash college. He did not complete the course but left school to enter business, this was in September 1866. For a number of years he was proprietor of a men's furnishing store. He then entered the National bank of Crawfordsville. By strict attention to business he became cashier of the bank, a position he held for twenty-nine years.

Mr. Goltra early in life became a member of the masonic fraternity. He was prominent in that body thruout Indiana and for twenty-five years was treasurer of the several masonic bodies in Crawfordsville. During the years he resided in Crawfordsville he made many visits to this, his old home city. Mr. Goltra was a man of fine ability and with high ideals of right living and many friends here will learn of his death with genuine regret.

June 9, 1870, Mr. Goltra was united in marriage at Crawfordsville to Miss Minnie Wasson. To this union two children were born, both of whom with his widow survive. They are: W. W. Goltra of Crawfordsville and Mrs. Mary Goltra Wood of Los Angeles Calif. Three sisters also survive: Miss Margaret H. Goltra, Miss Cornelia Goltra and Mrs. C. A. Catlin all of this city. One sister, the eldest preceded him in death five years ago.

Funeral services will be held in Alta Pasadena Friday afternoon. The services will be in charge of the Masonic fraternity.
